ENGAGING STUDENTS TO INCREASE TIME ON TASK

All the research (including our own National Lexile Study) shows that the more students read, the better they read and the more they learn. In 2018-2019, we're providing additional opportunities for students to engage with the Achieve3000 platform so they can accelerate their literacy gains:

School Break Boot Camps

Help stop slides and setbacks over vacation weeks and months, and make these times for accelerating gains instead! Look for boot camps and related contests launching for school breaks throughout the year.

Text Sets on Hot Topics for Discussion & Debate

For example, in one text set, students consider whether playing video games is more beneficial or harmful to today's youth; in another, students consider whether male and female athletes playing the same sport should receive similar salaries.

New Content Based on Student Requests

We're adding weekly articles inspired by current events and on topics identified in our most recent student interest survey.

New Student Article Selection Polls

We're giving students a chance to determine what we publish! Periodically, high schoolers will be asked if they want to choose between two article topics. Based on their votes, we'll publish the article that's highest interest for the most students.
